FALL

'Tis FALL . . . In Genola . . . A city of brick buildings set on a curved drive . . . Wide-eyed freshmen gaze on the scene with wonder . . . While Sophomores scuttle to each other to renew last year's acquaintances . . . "Rats" aglow in red and black paint . . . Hilarious from the peanut race to the performance on The Square . . . Classes begin, supervised by our likable Deans . . . Mr. Gunn and Dr. Folger . . . The first formal . . . Faculty Dance for the Freshmen . . . Girls in swirling, long dresses of every color . . . The Georgia Technicians and their music . . . Soccer, West Georgia's newest sport . . . Mr. I. S. Ingram, our esteemed President, placing the ball for the kick-off from Ingram Field . . . Freshmen team victorious over the Sophomores . . . The Barn Dance, the "Hit" of the season . . . With everything from hay and wagons to a live calf and pig and a well of Coca-Colas . . . Thanksgiving and . . . Finally . . . Christmas holidays . . . With everybody leaving with long faces . . .

PRESIDENT I. S. INGRAM, A. B. - M. A.

The President and the Deans, able men of vision and sincerity, have given generously of their time and effort throughout the year in their ceaseless endeavors to keep life running smoothly and effectively at the college. To them is due in a large measure West Georgia's reputation as an important institution of learning to the State and to the South.

FRESHMAN

Fall! The campus, idle for a time, begins to buzz with bewildered freshmen. They who have been accustomed to living in a limited family are now to become members of West Georgia's wide "family group." Honorable sophomores initiate "Rats" in fine style—with the faculty to the rescue with the first formal to welcome new students. Classes begin and still-wondering frosh learn what work really is. One good time after another balanced with hard work. Sports, new clubs and old, books, unheard-of studies capture the minds of the freshmen crop. Holidays. Each time they grow more eager to return. Now full-fledged members of W. G. C. they sense that they belong, that they have found their place. New facts, new faces, new friends, have all been learned. All too soon '41-'42 is over and with sad hearts the "sophomores-to-be" leave with vivid memories of their first year of college!

THE WEST

The WEST GEORGIAN was awarded the standard of excellence for the second consecutive year. This placed the publication in the top ranks of Junior College newspapers.

The staff members presented a bi-monthly paper consisting of entertaining features, editorials, and important news.

The paper was synonymous with the life and enthusiasm which pervaded the campus.

WINTER

SEAGRAVES, PHILLIPS, POPHAM.

The third year teacher program is based upon the belief that many of the southern problems can be solved and will be solved by the rural teacher through the rural schools. With this in mind, the junior class students are bearing new responsibilities that will enable them to begin in the building of a new era in the South.

This third year of work has been made possible by Rosenwald Aid and Knight Templars scholarships. A select group has been obtained for this work.

The type of work the junior student does is paralleled to that of the child in the laboratory schools, but at a college level of growth. Each student's background of experience is kept in mind and he is helped to keep that which is his own strength, color and beauty. At the same time, the student moves toward a solution of real problems in nutrition, general health, human relationships with all group levels, education procedures in schools, community study and organization, cooperative enterprises, art, literature, music, crafts, and religion.

Thus, with such a variety of experiences, these future teachers gain much to contribute to the future schools.

Forum and panel discussions have been the rule for the Debate Club this year. Members have been particularly active in the educational phase of the Civilian Defense program. They have appeared before various campus organizations and conducted discussions of great importance on the war issues. They have aided the Social Science Department in conducting a series of lectures and discussions on the "War Background and Related Issues." This series ran from February until late May, and was a weekly feature on the campus. Faculty members and students alike attended in large numbers. Dr. Clark and Professor Hodges were in charge of the program.

Members of the Press Forum are interested in maintaining a high standard of Journalism at West Georgia.

A discussion of journalistic subjects fulfilled the club's objective.

The Gen Pen was again published quarterly. Edited by Jean Aycock, the Gen Pen was the only literary campus publication.

BOYS'

Coach John Carpenter, born in Ashland, Alabama, received his education at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, majoring in Social Science and Physical Education.

After graduation he came to Georgia and taught Physical Education at Greenville High School. Upon leaving Greenville he became instructor of Physical Education at Douglasville High School. During his five years stay at the two high schools, he won 103 out of 122 basketball games played.

Because of his capability and wide knowledge of recreational programs he was made head of the Physical Education Department of West Georgia College.

Coach Carpenter has undoubtedly been outstanding in his system of athletic training.

About thirty Braves answered Coach Carpenter's call to action, and started a winning season by downing Southern Union 39 to 20 for their first home game.

Because of an accident that put an excellent guard, Herbert Bice, out of action, and college regulations that eliminated some of the other best players, the Braves were forced to bow to sixteen opponents out of twenty-two. However, the Braves fought hard in every game. Realizing they were out-classed the Braves still fought with determination to win, demonstrating sportsmanship that would be a credit to any college.

The most outstanding players for the 1941-42 season were Captain Roy McGraw with a total of 194 points; Roy Malcolm, Roy Whitener, and Herbert Bice with 147, 117, and 108 points respectively.

Manager W. R. "Sunshine" Chancey did an excellent job in keeping the morale of the team at a high level.

Coach Ruth Sturgis, Director of Physical Education for Women at West Georgia College, was born in Rock Hill, South Carolina. She attended Winthrop College in Rock Hill, and was graduated from Louisiana State University. While doing her graduate work at L. S. U. she was instructor in Physical Education. After leaving there she became director of Physical Education at LaGrange College, LaGrange, Georgia. Realizing the importance of physical fitness which determines to a large degree the keeness of mind, Miss Sturgis has well planned and carefully directed a program for the girls here.

The Squaws of West Georgia ended a successful season by overrunning Reinhardt 30 to 21 making a total of four victories, three losses and one tie. They exchanged victory for defeat to all teams except Georgia Evening School, which the team only met in one game.

For the season the team scored 206 points to 165 for their opponents. The high scorers were Anderson, Barnes, Woodruff, and Mitchell with 66, 45, 40, and 35 respectively.

Good old West Georgia. We couldn't help returning could we, Sophomores? Yes, the magnetic force was too great to let us stay away. We had to come back to finish what we had begun and to work even harder than ever before. The first year we found out what it was all about. This year we've tried to use that knowledge.

The seriousness of the task before us, however, has not interferred with our having fun, for truly no one could have had more fun than we have had.

Through the year we have enjoyed the cooperation of both the faculty members and our fellow students in classes, socials, and the many organizations on the campus. All this has added up to a happy and most successful year.

Some of our graduating class may return to complete a third year's work here. Others will secure jobs or continue their college career elsewhere. In the army or elsewhere we will know that our college days at West Georgia were well spent and that our later life will be enriched by them.

Membership in the "W" Club is given to those students who win letters in either varsity or intramural sports. For a candidate to become a full fledged member of the organization, the Athletic Council, composed of faculty members, must vote favorably upon his athletic services, sportsmanship, and loyalty. The best ideals of sportsmanship and interest in athletic activities at West Georgia College is exhibited in its members. An annual banquet held in the spring culminates the year's activities.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS

The Student Body is headed by three competent leaders: President Hubert Vaughn, Vice-President Ruth Blaylock, and Secretary and Treasurer Mary Bess Jackson. These three Sophomores direct activities and determine policies for the entire student group. Some of their many duties are to assist freshmen during Orientation Week and to arrange and conduct student elections in the Fall and Spring. Several mass meetings were held during the year to cope with various student problems. Through the efforts of these leaders many problems were solved and goals reached in order to make our campus a better place in which to live.

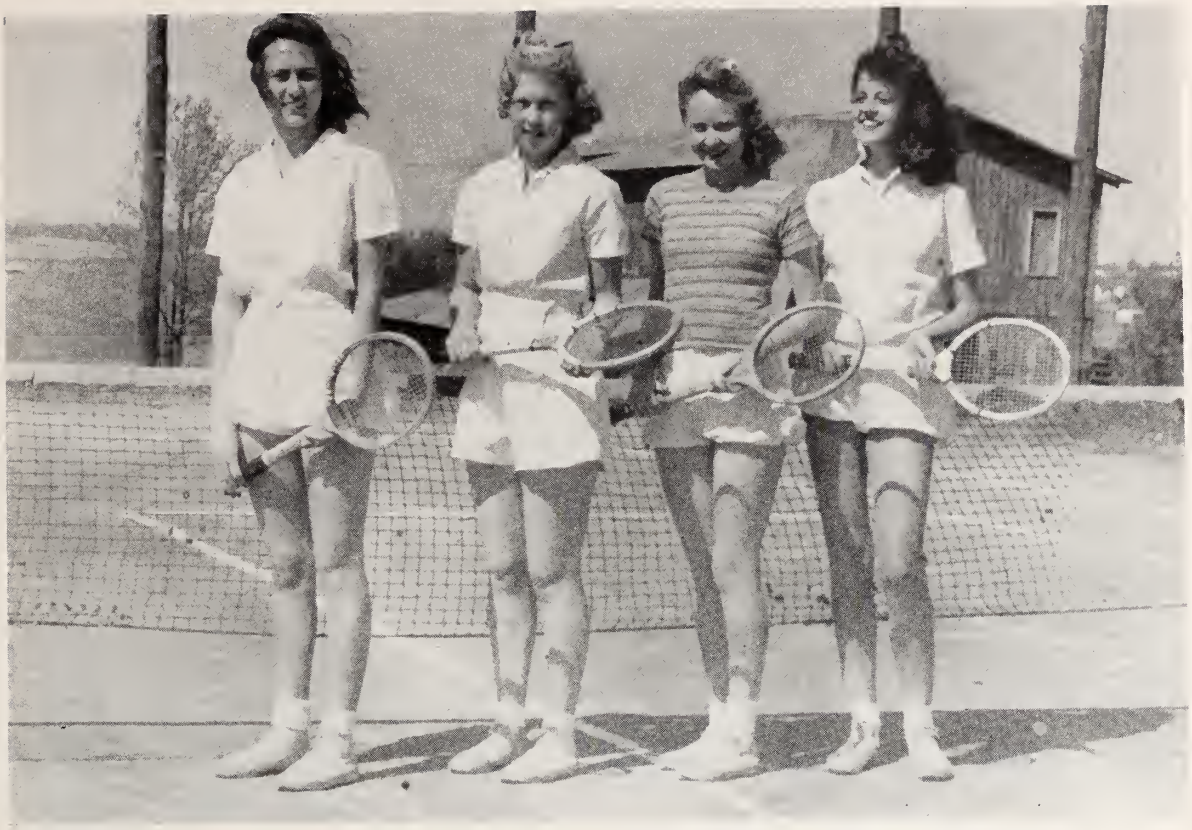
INTRAMURALS

Soccer . . . speedball . . . baseball . . . basketball . . . tennis . . . archery . . . ping-pong . . . badminton . . . shuffleboard . . . golf . . . every student at West Georgia College is offered the opportunity of participating in one or all of these sports. The whole year 'round sports enthusiasts compete with each other in varied games, whether individually or on class or dormitory teams.

Tennis was offered both in Fall and Spring quarters. Basketball was tops during the cold weather, and softball reigned in the Spring. This year the intramural sports for the girls were conducted by the W. A. W., of which organization each student was a member. Clubs were formed for each sport. The men's intramural sports were under the direction of the Men's Physical Education Department. Competition was keen and we were proud of each team for their constant work and practice. Many letters were awarded.

Physical education is as much a part of West Georgia as the Ac Building, and these activities foster a feeling of good sportsmanship, rivalry, and fraternity.

VARSITY TENNIS



Among the Members of the Team were: COLQUITT, STRIPLIN, LOUGHRIDGE, HENSLEY

Proudly presenting . . . girls' tennis . . . clubs were organized this year and tournaments played to determine how each girl progressed. Many lassies tried swinging the racket for the first time . . . older hands at the game improved their skill.

General interest was shown by the enthusiastic gatherings at the court each afternoon. The girls worked hard and enjoyed every minute of it! . . . Tennis . . . like all other sports . . . contributes to cooperation and coordination.
